Accelerate MFG / Ohio TechNet Update - June 2017

As we near the end of the third year of the Ohio TechNet Project, I want to provide a quick update on Sinclair's new competency based education (CBE-hybrid*) courses and certificates in Advanced Manufacturing.

Progress:

- Total participant enrollment in the program has reached 140 individuals, which is 141% of our goal. The grant delivery period will continue until March 31, 2018.
- Presently, 39 students in the SkillsTrac Industrial Maintenance program have completed a certificate.
- To date, there have been 78 successful CBE-hybrid computer aided manufacturing course completions with a 78% student success rate. CBE students are completing manufacturing courses an average of 28 days quicker than students in our face-to face courses.
- All six of the CAM courses continue to be offered in the new CBE-hybrid format. The courses are: CAM 1116 - Fundamentals of CNC, CAM 1141 - Shop Floor Calculations, CAM 1109 - Fundamentals of Tooling and Machining, MET 1131 - PC Applications, OPT 1100 - Tooling and Machining Metrology, and CAM 1107 – Principles of Manufacturing.
- Faculty are working on two additional course conversions to the new CBE-hybrid format: CAM 1214 – Mill Programming and CAM 1142 – Shop Floor Calculations II.
- Student Pipeline - With the aid of Spectrum Career, the program has been holding informational meetings and online webinars to help promote Sinclair's programs and manufacturing career opportunities in the region.

Success Stories:

- One Accelerate MFG student now holds the record for the fastest CBE completion at Sinclair. This student completed the online portion of MET 1131-CBE in 6 days! This student works full-time in manufacturing, but the flexible delivery makes acceleration possible, even for a busy employee.

Next Steps:

- Sinclair faculty and staff will continue to deliver the courses & certificates over the next two semesters, making additional refinements as needed.
- Accelerate MFG is now engaged in sustainability planning as we determine how to continue delivering the courses and certificates in the post-grant period.
- The flexible delivery aligns well with those currently working in the manufacturing sector. Please act now by referring employees to us to discuss how they can pursue a certificate or degree while still working! You can also contact us to schedule an Accelerate MFG information session onsite at your company.
- Remember that Project Hire may be able to help with employee training costs for qualifying individuals. Visit www.projecthiremc.com or contact us for more information.

Business Walk Volunteers

BusinessFirst! needs volunteers to meet with companies during its first Business Walk of 2017 in Germantown. The walk will be held Thursday, July 13, from 10:00am-12:00pm.

Business walks are an opportunity to touch small and medium-sized companies and provide them with information about new programs and services, as well as local community events.

If you are interested in volunteering but cannot make the event in Germantown, don't worry. BusinessFirst! is planning a more walks later this year.

For more information about Business Walks, or to find out about volunteering, please contact Mike Norton-Smith at 937.224.3848 or SmithMN@mcoho.org.
