Thru Sept. 30

Thru September 25 - Exhibit: Undesign the Red Line

Dayton Metro Library - Main Library, 215 E. Third St.; during open hours.

Undesign the Redline examines the roots of structural racism through the experiences of people and communities affected by the legacy of redlining. Timelines, maps and narratives depict the origin and lasting effects of redlining - a practice which embedded segregation and inequality into the development of American cities and suburbs. The exhibit will be on display at the Main Library August 6-September 25. For more information about the exhibit, related programming and resources, visit DaytonMetroLibrary.org/undesign-the-redline, or call 937-463-2665.

AM EDUCATION SESSIONS

TRACK 1: The True Cost of Carbon: Unequal Impact and Policy Response

Policies and regulations to potentially curb greenhouse gas emissions and slow global warming often come at a cost, but what is the cost of doing nothing in terms of our society, our economy, and our environment? Join this panel to understand how policy can impact community resilience, economic activity, environmental equity, and global warming. Our experts will present and compare policy options to abate carbon emissions from the energy sector, the need for aggressive decarbonization, and the impact policy has now and what role it could play in the future.

TRACK 2: The Business Case for Intelligent Building Management

Is your building drifting away from its original design intent and wasting precious resources? When buildings are first designed, complex building equipment and systems are fine tuned to ensure the building performs as expected to meet energy efficiency targets and maintain occupant comfort.

Over time, these design intentions can be overridden or eroded by aging equipment, software failures, and human error. Join this panel to learn about how Intelligent Building Management can help your team monitor building automation and energy systems, analyze-real time data, highlight anomalies, and identify precisely where staff and resources are most valuable. The end result will be a building performing at its peak, saving energy and reducing emissions to benefit the environment and your bottom line.

PM EDUCATION SESSIONS

TRACK 1: Climate Action at the Local Level

Join this panel to learn how leaders at the local level are mobilizing to reduce emissions by 2030 and keep the 1.5 C temperature goal within reach. Private and public sector experts will share insights into their organization's efforts to reduce their carbon footprint and embed sustainability into day-to-day operations and long-term goals. Walk away from this session with a clear picture of how your organization can tackle wasted resources, reduce energy consumption, and engage your employees and stakeholders to make meaningful change.

TRACK 2: How Higher Education is Preparing for a Net Zero Future

In the past two decades, higher education institutions have led the charge for sweeping changes to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and mitigate climate change. Most recently, 75 universities called for the United States to cut carbon emissions by 50% by 2030 with a goal of getting to Net Zero by 2050. Learn from these higher education leaders about how they are creating a Net Zero future on campus, and the tools, tactics, and strategies they are implementing to bring about that change.
